“ This was the last picture that I took of Dave with his "Team". He and I road the bus together frequently sharing "soldier stories". He will surely be missed.....Rest In Peace.....

“ No one did more to establish the character and the reputation of the AMS Compliance shop than DT. In my day, AMS compliance and investigative operations were widely respected for competence and professionalism. It was DT's competence and professionalism that set the standard. The staff was known for independence, integrity, fairness, and a reasonable measure of good humor. Again it was DT who set those standards. I have no doubt that DT continued to instill those characteristics in the staff right up until the end, and that the professionals who worked under his leadership will carry on in his footsteps.

I've been away from there going on 14 years, now. I still miss everyone, and I'll shed a tear or two for DT.

“ One day a sharply dressed and polished man walked into our USDA office. I thought he was an attorney and found the highest ranked USDA official I could talk to this guy. The next Monday morning he was working for the USDA after retiring from CID the Friday before. It was Dave. He fit right in and instead of the water cooler used a silly game in my office as a gathering point for the daily activities of the staff. It was from this game that he received the name of DT, ate M&M's and was loved by the staff. I talked to DT earlier this year he seemed so confident that he would beat his nonsmokers lung cancer. I thought he would. My condolences to his family, friends and coworkers. I will always remember him as one of the very very good guys.

“ Dave was one of my all time favorite co-workers when we worked together in the 1990s. We remained friends all the years after we stopped working together. What I most remember about him was his love for fast food when on travel. He was highly effective in his work, and he had a wonderful sense of humor. I am very happy that I was able to see him before he retired and to communicate with him during the past year. I will miss him.

“ I started working with Dave (aka "DT") 20 years ago when I left the U.S. Secret Service to work for USDA. He was an amazing Investigator who trained me and everyone else on the staff to be what we are today. We all had a great laugh when DT became our leader, mainly because he started wearing shirts with different colors (which he never did when I first met him). DT was also my friend. He gave me advice and helped me through the toughest times in my life. I am forever grateful for his friendship and can only hope that I gave him back all that he gave to me. My prayers are for his family, which all of us at work knew, he loved dearly.

This picture is from DT's last day at work.....he was admired, he was respected, and he was loved.

“ Had a great time with Dave over the year we spent at CRC, Korea. And after we got back, the days I spent with him and his family in DE and the too few visitss thru the years. One day in Korea, the squad got lectured/advised at guardmount by Sgt Buchanon that MP's should not be eating while actively patrolling. But, since it got hot that day Dave and I obtained a couple of otter pops. I'm sure we fully inteded to find a shady spot to eat those popsicles, but we got dispatched to the PX for something. So we wheeled thru the main gate, each of us with an otter pop stuck in our mouth. And good old Sgt Buchanon was standing right on the corner staring at us, shaking his head. Our next order was return to station. Luckily Sgt Buchanon had a pretty good sense of humor. Of course that gave Dave and I something to blame each other for. Great times and great memories of a great friend.
