Dear Stephanie,

What a great man your father was. Based upon what I've read and what you've shared with me Stephanie, your father was: A brave man as demonstrated by his long term service to his country having fought in two wars, a resilient man having to overcome the racist attitudes more prevalent in the South in his early years, a family man as evidenced by his dedication and commitment to his wife and children, and a great father, provider, protector, and role model to his children. In you Stephanie I see your father's reflection. Again, please accept my deepest condolences.
