“ I remember Bobbie and her husband Bob from Old Dominion Cloggers. They both always had a smile. I only knew their daughter briefly who clogged with us for a short time. I wasn't aware she had other children. Although I hadn't seen her since 1983, I always thought of her and Bob often. They are together now, and I'm sure they are clogging in heaven with my Dad, Raymond Elias, Frank & Julie Lowe and Monk and Anita Hawkins. God Bless, Lindy Elias (Lake Ridge VA)

“ Bobbie, As I sit here and try to pick which memory stands out, I can't pick just one as they were all unique and memorable. I remember when we met, we tried for a year to get our husbands together, but no go. But that Christmas season over a girl scout sing along and a flask, they bonded and became life long friends, closer than brothers. Our families were like one. I am so thankful for your friendship all these years and I will walk down memory lane with you now and remember all those beautiful times that are stamped on my heart and keep you close. Gone from our sight but not our hearts. You are loved and missed beyond measure. Rest in Peace my Friend, Love Me-Betty

“ This was the day her great-grandson was born on her birthday! Nanny was so happy and kept saying since Mason was born on her birthday, then she gets to take him home! We will never forget you, Nanny, and continue to also celebrate you with Mason on y'all's birthday. RIP, Nanny! Love, Celina, Matt, Mason and Alyssa

Bobbie, I have so many great, beautiful, and loving memories of you, that it's difficult to pick just one. The smile you always gave, the love you shared so openly, the food you made with love and tenderness, the sunshine in your kitchen and your heart will be forever etched in my memories. The love and friendship that the 4 of you had was shown to each and everyone of us kids, the laughter and joy, the travel, the immense bond of family and friendship over the last 54 years is a testament to you. When you held Taylor in the hospital after taking me to the doctors so many times, and you said he made it all worth it, stayed with me all these years, and when I held his son, those same words and feelings came out of me, thank you for loving all of us. Until we meet again, Never Forgotten; Love you Always, Lisa
