

Eugene Hill Jr.

April 15, 2020

Eugene Hill Jr was a United States Military Veteran, he was one of the few who worked in all branches of the U.S armed forces, the Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard. Eugene was an avid photographer and traveller. He traveled the world meeting people and capturing moments in his pictures that span from Saigon Vietnam to Oshkosh, Wisconsin, where he would fly small planes that he loved to build and film butterflies while driving down the roads.

Eugene Hill Jr was also a caring husband, a father, a step father, a son, a brother, a cousin, a grand father, a grand son, a friend, a fighter with a kind heart who played his blues harmonica until he could, making people around him smile. Eugene did not complain about anything much, even when he use to be in excruciating pain. He use to take it all in, but then again, this show, for all of us, has to come to an end.

Gene or Pop or Blue, as he was known, went back to God on April 15, 2020 at the Inova Fairfax Hospital in Virginia. He was born on April 3, 1931 in Weldon, North Carolina. He was 89.

Gene fought a tireless 9 year battle with prostate cancer then with myeloma cancer then with alzheimer, but God had set his term fixed, and thus it ended on April 15, 2020. Now he is with God like how everyone of us will soon return back to Him.

Eugene Hill Jr will be laying to rest until the day of his resurrection at the Quantico National Cemetery in Quantico, Virginia. Section 30 grave number 673.
