“ I didn't know Jimmy well. I met him as an adult, and then only a few times, when Joy, Wayne, and Jimmy were kind enough to host me at their home near the beach. What I do know, having worked with people with special needs, is that they are special because they fulfill a need in us. They bring out our best, they teach us to be kind, patient, tolerant, compassionate, non-judgemental, and loving. Jimmy was no exception, as Joy and Wayne exhibit these traits in spades. It is apparent from the impact he's made on others' lives, Jimmy lived a life well spent.

Our hearts ache for you over the loss of Jimmy. May his memory bring you joy in the days ahead, and may you find peace in knowing he's with your dad.

“ My husband Bob (now deceased) and I were fortunate to be invited years ago to attend a superbowl party at the Gryders. I noticed my husband disappeared, and I found him in the front room with Jimmy watching the game, and he stayed there with Jimmy. When we got back home, Bob told me he could not believe how much Jimmy knew about sports! Very impressed! From then on, when Joy and Jimmy would take their daily walk and Jimmy would see Bob, he would always wave and say, "Hi, Mr. Bob!". They are now buddies and 2 very kind people for eternity. Very fondly, Cindy Isennock
