“ I met you in sixth grade, you used to ride your bike by my house and gave me a kitten. Your dad made you come back to retrieve said kitten. Then you and your family moved away. Fast forward to 2014 and you found me on Facebook. I couldn't believe you remembered me seeing how I had just moved to Florida and shortly after you had moved away. We kept in touch through out the years. I didn't know you passed just one day you didn't respond to me anymore. I'm broken to learn of your passing. I miss you my friend and will never forget you! You were a beautiful person inside and out. Love you friend.

“ I'm late finding out by over a year and a half. I'm at a loss for words. Josh was an amazing man. He cared so much for others. We only knew each other a few months and lost touch but now i know why. In those few months we made so many great memories. My heart goes out to his family and most importantly Dax.

“ My best friend since young adulthood. The beers we shared the memories we made. You were my brother. Calling me on my bullshit me calling you on yours. I respected all of the accomplishments that you made. A life dedicated to country and service. Grunt 2 Be was your your email address. I had no idea what that meant as an 15 year old. Knowing you though and the life the led made it stick and I appreciate it now. I love my country but never lived it like you did. Much respect! You are a special dude. I appreciate the time I knew you. You shaped my life and my future. My life would not be the same without you. Rest in peace brother. Let me know what I can do in this life to pass on your legacy.

“ I remember Josh literally leaping up the stairs at my daughter's graduation in 2002. Shouting her name with all that was in him when they handed her that diploma. Leaping over our flower garden and landing perfectly upright, ringing our doorbell to see my daughter. His whole beautiful self smiling...eyes twinkling as he then flew up our stairs. I remember how tight he held her the day they married. You may be gone sweet boy. Yet you live forever in my soul.

My deepest most heartfelt sympathies to his mother and his family and so many friends. See you soon beloved boy. Love always...
