“ Mitch was a positive and outgoing person. For the 12 years I've known him, he always had my back and was the only person on this planet who truly cared about me. I will miss his phone calls every few weeks just to check on me.

One of my best memories was in 2014 the day the Nats had their first no-hitter. He found my car at our usual parking place and left me this note. I have always kept it in my car ever since (and this is my 3rd car since then.)

Last year, he sold me the house I'm in now. He always believed in me when I doubted I'd ever be a homeowner. It's because of him I trusted enough to make it happen.

Mitch, I am truly lost and don't know what I'll do without you. RIP my friend.
