“ Sir Ramon or "Tiyo Jun" as I call him, was a very kind person. I met him when I happened to process our company papers on my previous work, he was the one who assisted me in DPWH. Thank you so much Tiyo Jun. You are in God's hand now, may you rest in peace 🙏

“ Lolo, may you rest in peace. Thank you for the opportunity to be able to have spent time with you. Thank you for the laughs when you would ask the most random questions. Thank you for teaching me the rules of your card games and the conversations we would have during breakfast. I also want to thank you for being a great friend to Tatay. I hope you two are happily drinking wine together again in Heaven. Til we see each other again, be well now.

“ Mr. de Leoz was a kind and considerate man. I feel lucky and fortunate to have known him. He was also an excellent cook. I was able to speak to him near Christmas and he was as he has always been kind, considerate, and even funny. I'm very sad for the family and I can only let you know that sadness means he was very much loved.

“ I don't have a photo of uncle Jun with me but I do have a lot of good memories.

One that really stood out was when I approached him one summer long time ago when I was a high school student looking for a summer job. He basically said, don't worry I'll find a spot our department DPWH. I spent the whole two months with him doing little errands (stapling paperwork) and running little errands in his office. It was my first summer job and a great summers that I will never forget.

I will miss you Tito Jun!!
