“ I was very sorry to hear of Spike's passing. He deserved a long life. The world misses him. I knew Spike as a classmate at USNA. I shared several physics classes with him. (I was a math major who took a lot of physics courses also.) Spike was generous in giving me advice for solving tough home work problems and getting laboratory data properly analyzed. I reconnected with him on Facebook a year ago. I looked forward to hearing from him, and getting his take on good science fiction.

“ I was blessed to work with Spike several years ago. I am saddened to hear of his sudden passing. My deepest condolences to his family and loved ones. I share a small measure of your loss. I treasured his scratchy sense of humor and his resilience. My team valued his reliability and steadfast dedication to our mission. He made a difference and I miss him.

“ On behalf of CNA, I want to express my condolences to Spike's family. Spike was a member of our analytic staff and a great one at that. He had an enormous passion for the work and for his shipmates - both in the Navy and at CNA. We have not forgotten his incredibly wry sense of humor. The nation has lost a talented and dedicated researcher, focused on key matters of significance to the naval services. Our collective thoughts are with you at this time of sorrow.

“ I, too, remember Spike from the Castaways Repertory Theatre, where we both learned to set up pole lights and run the lighting board at the Ferlazzo Auditorium. He performed in a couple of productions and helped behind the scenes, doing so cheerfully and eagerly, making us laugh as all pitched in to help with set-building, etc.

“ I'm so sad to learn of Spike's passing. Spike was a remarkable person--deeply loved his family and country. His dry wit could always bring a smile!!! Thoughts and prayers are with Charlotte and family as Spike looks down on us!

“ We all knew Spike was brilliant and accomplished but what I remember most about him was that he was hilariously witty. Anytime I got the chance to see him, he had me laughing in no time. The other thing remember about Spike was how obvious it was that he adored his family. I am so sorry for their loss of a great husband, father and brother. Chelle

“ When Spike still lived on Park Ave and the cousins all lived like brothers. ....the boy cousins that is... those are the times I remember most. There was only ever good nature between us and the memories are continuous. All through scouts too we always had each other and that was a great way to grow up. Happily any chance we had to reconnect as adults was taken. I felt as close to Spike the last time I saw him as I did growing up in the row homes. We were always genuinely happy to see each other again. I will miss you very much Spike.
