“ We've been friends since we were in 1st grade. You became family. My parents and sister started calling you Troy Boy! We went to each others soccer games. Got each other the best gifts ever. I still have my Tarheel coat 💙 You had so many talents which is why I always said your last name fit you. You were an athlete, a mechanic, an artist, and most important my brother. My heart has been hurting since I got the news. But I'm beyond grateful for all the memories. I'm not saying goodbye but so long for now💙

“ Over the last 6 months Troy became one of my closest friends. We talked about our kids, animals, and music. He was a friend when I was coping with the death of my father. He shared his art and so much music with me. There are no words to express how he touched my life over such a short time.
My sincerest condolences to his family.

“ My owl. My brother. My friend. My Troy Tallent ( ♥Troy Boy ♥) My heart is very heavy as you have left this life. You brought so many positive beautiful things to my life and so many others. You are BEAUTIFUL, extremely TALENTED, a very ride or die LOYAL friend. You made me laugh, you made me calm, you brought me art, music, joy and style. We shared so much from our souls to our clothes. Fly high brother and rest easy. You are so very, very deeply missed and I love you. Your Rae Rae. ♥
